

Friday 17th January

Dear Pink Rabbit,

I'm really sorry that I left you behind in Berlin. It was a really hard choice to make. Please forgive me. I am sorry that I bang Barny instead of you Pink Rabbit.

We are having so much fun but I wish you were there to have it with us. I shall bring you with me some day instead of Barny. You will love where we are staying. There is a balcony with a river that carried stemmers across it every day.

How is every one doing accpechly you Pink Rabbit? Who won the elections? If it's Hitler please be careful.

If you didn't know I haven't been well these days. I've been in bed for ages. Now I feel much better.

Lots of love yours truly

Dear Pink Rabbit,

I'm really sorry I didn't bring you with me, I just didn't have enough time in Berlin to play with my other doll. Also Mama said I could only bring one toy with me. Again Pink Rabbit I'm so sorry I didn't bring you. I wanted to bring you because you were my favourite cuddly toy since I was little and you always will be.

I was sick and had Influenza for nearly one whole month and Mama didn't give up on me because I could of potentially died. Mama checked my temperature and it had been four weeks since I had become sick. Anyway she checked and for the first time in four weeks it was normal. So that means I can and will write to you every single week.

But that's all done with because I feel wonderful and I am much better after four weeks of being sick. However we are at the moment living in a luxurious hotel. I say this because it has a spectacular view of Zurich. This is probably the best hotel I've ever stayed in. Anyway how everything in Berlin? How are you? Who won the elections? Has the house been rented yet? How are Elsbeth and Gunther? How is Heimpi? I have so many questions I could ask! Hopefully Hitler and the Nazis didn't win the elections so Max, Mama, Papa and I can come home.

I miss you so much Pink Rabbit. I really do and I hope if someone has rented the house then there taking care of it properly. We're getting on well in Zurich and I suppose you're getting on fine to Pink Rabbit. Please god I hope Hitler and his ridiculous Nazis didn't win the elections. We will definetly come home if Hitler and his Nazis didn't win the elections.

I will write again next week.

Dear Pink Rabbit,

I am so sorry I left you behind. I knew I should have brought you. I now can see that you are the best. I shouldn't have brought the other stupid teddy. You are my favourite cuddly toy. I miss you so much. Please forgive me!

Right now I am in a posh hotel in Zurich which has luxurious bedrooms and amazing floors. I have been very sick for four weeks. My mum was as kind and as caring as Heimpi. I really miss Heimpi.

Anyway how is it in Berlin? I would off's thought that it is okay. Did Hitler win the election? Hopefully he didn't or we can't come back. Please say he didn't please say. Last question, did Heimpi find someone to rent the house?

Looking forward to hearing your tremendous reply

Adieu (goodbye)

Dear Pink Rabbit,

Please forgive me. I could only take one toy. I'm in Switzerland and staying in a posh hotel. It has revolving doors and a thick, furry carpet. I have been sick for around one month. I am really sorry and miss you so much. I wish I had you here.

We met a funny person on the train with a cat in a basket. Who won the election? How is Heimpi? How are you? The family is okay and there is abundant sea life in the lake. What's happening in Germany? Has the house been rented yet?

I must bring you another day, Pink Rabbit instead of Dave (the fluffy dog). I'm having a fun time!

Yours truly,

Adieu (it means goodbye in Swiss)

Dear Pink Rabbit,

I am really sorry I left you back in Berlin. It was a terrible choice. I miss you so much!

First I went to the old battered train station, and we had to stay there over night. The next morning, we got on to the train. After, we set off, there was a lady sitting opposite us who had a black cat in an old basket it was hilarious. After we got off we met papa at the station after we were at the hotel I fell ill I had influenza for 4 weeks. we were staying in a posh hotel with revolving doors.

Who won the election? How are you? How is Hempi? I hope you both are well. What is happening in Berlin?

I'm looking forward to receive a reply.

I'll write to you soon

Adieu [good bye]

Yours truly Phoebe
